

Start of production for a new automotive product: Common Rail part of the injection system.

Manufacturing is organized in cells, in order to reach the capacity provided in the project by the end of 2014.

